Notes

Use this form to apply for membership of IAIDQ.

Effective dates of membership...

are from date of receipt of your application in our office. Expiry will be one or 2 years after date of receipt.

Country Groupings

IAIDQ dues are based on the purchasing power parity of countries. By doing this, membership becomes more accessible to a broader spectrum of the industry. We have categorized countries into three groups, based on information provided by the World Bank Group. We intend that individuals pay dues on the basis of the country where they work or the country by whose standard they are paid, whichever is greater.

Table with 3 columns: Group 1 countries, Group 2 Countries, and Group 3 Countries. Lists various countries under each group.

Membership Categories and Definitions:

Corporate Members:

Companies and organisations with an interest in Information Quality. Individual employees nominated by the corporate member have the same rights as profession members. The corporate member may change its nominated employees as required.

Profession Members:

Individuals who are managers, professionals or consultants in information quality management or general quality

Student Members:

Individuals who are students currently enrolled in College or University who are interested in information quality

Between Jobs Members:

Individuals who are currently unemployed. Members in good standing who become unemployed at the time of their next

What is Skype?

Download Skype for free from www.skype.com

Skype is a Voice Over Internet Protocol (VOIP) telephony system.

Use Skype to make phone calls from your computer to another computer via an Internet connection.

There is no charge for calling between two computers which both have Skype installed.
